THE NEW SPENDIARY.

Now that the presence of a resident Squire at Calgary is an annual fact, both the local bar and the public may be congratulated. It is owing to their combined efforts that the appointment has been made, and the gain to the public in convenience and to the local bar in dignity ought to be considerable. Perhaps it may not be out of place to expect that the gain to the bar will be pecuniary as well as moral, facility in litigation being an enticing to litigants as the fabulous fee is to the fabulous fall.

In another way the change will be an encouraging one. Many minor cases which now come before the mayor or the commandant at the barracks, will in future be brought before the Squire. It has long been a bitterly felt injustice that the Mounted Police should be allowed to be in a well settled court, to exercise judicial powers. Sitting either before the mayor or the commandant, the Squire's court, a police officer is supremely out of place, except only in cases where members of the force themselves are on trial. Before the Squire's court, the police officer will be treated as a prosecutor, and not as a judge to be exercised by the same person, nor should the functions of prosecutor and judge be exercised by one who has no right to be on the bench as the clerk of the court frequently has. As regards the Mayor, the public may be satisfied if he devotes his attention to the municipal government without having the major part of his time taken up with hearing petty cases.

As regards the gentleman who has lately been appointed Judge, the public is most favorable. Mr. Travis is known to have devoted his attention chiefly to constitutional law and as it is the aspect of territorial law which must first engage the attention of the territorial bar, the fact is necessarily one to render it a matter of congratulation that a lawyer of this sort will direct the proceedings of the future. Judge Travis was for some years a partner of Judge Duff of the Supreme Court of New Brunswick, and as such was familiar with the work of the best presiding to be found at the New Brunswick bar. On all accounts therefore, both the bar and the public will welcome the new Squire with the best wishes, and hope that the future of the Calgary judiciary will be useful and distinguished.

AMUNITION TO INDIANS.

As will be seen in the columns of yesterday's Weekly Herald the Government have forbidden the sale or gift of fixed ammunition to Indians as a step in the right direction. One thing however appears to be overlooked in the proclamation. It is no use making it criminal for whites to sell ammunition to Indians, unless it is also made a crime for an Indian to have it in his possession. As far as the Indians of this part of the country are concerned, the Government has fixed ammunition they require from their relations across the line, the north Plaines, and Blackfoot. We believe that the greater part of the ammunition among the Indians of Treaty No. 7 at this present time would, if traced up, be found to come from this source. At any rate the quantity they buy from stores and traders in this district is no kind of proportion to the amount which they have in their possession. And as General Starnes remarked in Montreal Herald there is only one possible use to which they can now put it, and that is to shoot either white men or white men's cattle.

Of course if it were made criminal for an Indian to have fixed ammunition, the rifle might well be included in the list. A rifle means cartridges as much as a whiskey still means fire whiskey. The one has no reason d'être without the other. We do not however for a moment suppose that an Act prohibiting the use of rifles and fixed ammunition would have the effect of actually disarming them, or that it would be very or even possible to attempt to carry out such a law to the letter. To do so would be to require sufficient troops to surround and suddenly overwhelm every reserve in the territories on the same day. Any body of men which attempted to deal with the reserve by any night, sufficient to surround and suddenly overwhelm every reserve in the territories on the same day. Any body of men which attempted to deal with the reserve by any night, sufficient to surround and suddenly overwhelm every reserve in the territories on the same day.

Such a disarmament Act would however have the effect of stopping to a certain extent the prevailing epidemic of killing through the towns and over the cattle ranges of the Territories carrying a Winchester with the magazine crum full of cartridges and one in the chamber, and would in this way deprive them in a measure of their power of annoyance and mischief. Let them understand that if they want to keep their Winchester and cartridges they had better leave them at home when on a friendly visit to a white settlement or on a tour of inspection round the cattle ranches. Such a law might not seem at first sight to effect much, but the police would be enabled to deal with the matter. The discontinuance of the habit of carrying arms by public, whether dictated by fashion or enforced by law, is generally found to lead in course of time to a discontinuance of the use of them altogether.

THE PAST MONTH.

It must be evident to the most casual observer that Calgary has made considerable progress in many ways within the past few weeks. Houses and buildings of all kinds have been and still are going up on all sides, the Stephen Avenue T. C. Power & Bro's large store has been completed as far as the exterior goes and Mr. Donohue has opened his new store next door. Mr. Fraser has also gone a long way to the completion of his roller rink, the floor being all laid, and nothing but the finishing touches of the place being required to make it ready for the skating. Between Stephen Avenue and the Bow a great extent of the town has been taken place. Among other buildings, dwelling houses for the Rev. R. P. Smith and Mr. L. Doherty have been partly erected, and Mr. Matt. Dunn's villa has been almost finished. Further east Mr. A. G. McDonald has his residence, while the new King's store Mr. Howard Douglas has transformed the old school house into a pretty and commodious cottage. Of public works the new water works, completed on the exterior and the digging of the wells has been finished. On the Mission property the new college for ladies has been opened, and the bridge across the Elbow is to be begun at once.

The institution of a bank ladder and bucket corps must not be passed over in a sketch of the town's progress during August, 1885.

August is a good month for Calgary. In August the railway struck here, the first here not usually allow the triple functions of prosecutor, judge and jury to be exercised by the same person, nor should the functions of prosecutor and judge be exercised by one who has no right to be on the bench as the clerk of the court frequently has. As regards the Mayor, the public may be satisfied if he devotes his attention to the municipal government without having the major part of his time taken up with hearing petty cases.

As regards the gentleman who has lately been appointed Judge, the public is most favorable. Mr. Travis is known to have devoted his attention chiefly to constitutional law and as it is the aspect of territorial law which must first engage the attention of the territorial bar, the fact is necessarily one to render it a matter of congratulation that a lawyer of this sort will direct the proceedings of the future. Judge Travis was for some years a partner of Judge Duff of the Supreme Court of New Brunswick, and as such was familiar with the work of the best presiding to be found at the New Brunswick bar. On all accounts therefore, both the bar and the public will welcome the new Squire with the best wishes, and hope that the future of the Calgary judiciary will be useful and distinguished.

The Lieut. Governor does not believe that there is any truth in the report of the Winnipeg Free Press that the N. W. M. P. have established a reign of terror among the half-breeds around Prince Albert.

A quarrel happened some little time ago among some Swedes, who had a contract on the C. P. R. in the Eagle Pass. One of them got so badly kicked in the stomach that he has since died. His assailants have all disappeared.

An extraordinary movement is going on in Central Africa. A Mohammedan named Semde, with an army of 100,000 men is going through the country suppressing paganism and forcing the roads to the coast from the lands of marauders and blackmailers who have hitherto infested them. Mohammedan youths are flocking to his standard wherever he goes and his army have up to now, been everywhere victorious.

Russia is making overtures for an alliance with Turkey, looking out for an indemnity the recovery by Turkey of the Balkan passes. The Turkish ministry is divided between this alliance and the one with Great Britain.

The find on McCulloch Creek has exceeded the most sanguine anticipations. Two claims the Barrett and the Moly have produced rich results, which compares in richness with anything yet found on the Pacific coast. A one ninth interest in the Barrett was sold for $12,500.

Last Saturday night while section hands were travelling down grade on the "Hill," the other side of the Summit, the hand car jumped the track and two of the men had their legs broken. They were conveyed to the hospital at Danford.

Constant Sayers of the mounted police was shot recently by a horse thief at Moose Mountain. Sayers was trying to find the hiding place of a gang of thieves, who are said to have a large band of horses cached somewhere in the mountains. One of the thieves shot at Sayers, and he shot the pistol of his saddle, and on Sayers dismounting to effect his arrest, first again and hit him in the thigh.

We have received a copy of the official report of Major Gen. Middleton to the Minister of Militia of the engagements fought in the recent campaign. Among them is a copy of Col. (Ottar) of the Cut Knife Creek affair. Among those who conducted Col. Ottar thought called for special mention are the names of Lt. Col. Henderson and Sergt. Major Weston. S. W. M. P. now stationed here. He says "Sergt. Major Weston, S. W. M. P. was another worthy Britton, capable and dauntless courage, cool and steady and steady to those within the sound of his voice."

"In Lt. Col. Henderson, N. W. M. P. had a most valuable assistant and not only in the action of Saturday but throughout our march from Swift Current to Battleford, he displayed the most sterling qualities of a soldier while the men of his command have to my acquaintance proved themselves as invaluable to my force."
